

IMPOSSIBLE WINDOWS: A WRITING WORKSHOP ON MAGICAL REALISM

The Elizabeth Kostova Foundation offers a writing workshop with the Sozopol Fiction Seminars Fellow Delaney Nolan. In this workshop you will read and write fiction, with a particular eye to magical realism. “Magical realism” means stories set in a normal world with one element that is just a little strange. Maybe petals fall from the sky. Maybe the oceans have all turned into milk. Maybe you have your own ideas about connecting magic and reality? Maybe your deceased grandmother follows you around, asking you about math equations. If you are enticed and you are a high school student fluent in English, then read more here.

Information in Bulgarian is available here.

The project is implemented by the Elizabeth Kostova Foundation in cooperation with The Red House Centre for Culture and Debate and The Bulgarian-American Fulbright Commission.

SPRING CREATIVE WRITING CAMP

10-14 APRIL

IN ENGLISH

FOR HIGH SCHOOL
STUDENTS

SIGN UP BY 31
MARCH

DELANEY NOLAN is a 2012 Sozopol Fiction Fellow and the current Bulgaria-Greece Fulbright Grant Awardee. A graduate of the Iowa Writers' Workshop. Her fiction and poetry has been published and translated into Bulgarian, Arabic, Polish, and Italian. Read full bio here.

ELIZABETH KOSTOVA FOUNDATION
0897 01 02 89
www.ekf.bg